

WORRYING ABOUT ILLICIT FENTANYL MISUSE

In a recent Health Trends™ survey of US physicians, we learned that:

78% of US physicians fear patients will turn to illicit fentanyl<sup>1</sup>

86% worry that illicit fentanyl will claim more lives than prescribed opioids<sup>1</sup>

Fentanyl positivity increased by 35% in 2020 based on drug testing positivity rates<sup>2</sup>

THERE'S REASON TO WORRY:

48% of tested patients show signs of drug misuse and nearly half of those show signs of dangerous drug combinations<sup>1</sup>

Telehealth limits the ability to determine which patients are at risk or are already misusing prescriptions, according to 75% of physicians<sup>1</sup>

CLINICAL DRUG TESTING can lessen the worry!

85% of physicians recently surveyed agreed that clinical drug testing gives them more confidence to prescribe safely<sup>1</sup>
